Among the many clubs and organizations active at Delta, the Greeks play a large role for many students. Four sororities and four fraternities are recognized on campus: Alpha Zeta Phi, Chi Alpha Epsilon, Kappa Sigma Tau, Delta Zeta Chi, Delta Sigma Nu, Lambda Nu, Phi Delta Chi, and Phi Sigma Beta.

XAE

The Greeks sponsor many social activities. During 1970 they put on numerous dances: Flower Power, Shade of Nowhere, Toy Dance, Colony Ball Silver Bells, and Rhapsody in White. The Greeks also sponsored the Greek Week last March. It was full of funny activities to watch and do. This week provided a humorous time for all Delta students.

These fraternities and sororities offer sisterhood and brotherhood to anyone interested. As one sorority member said, "Wouldn't it be great to have twenty or twenty-five best friends?"

fraternities are organizations of brotherhood, members learn, live, and laugh together.

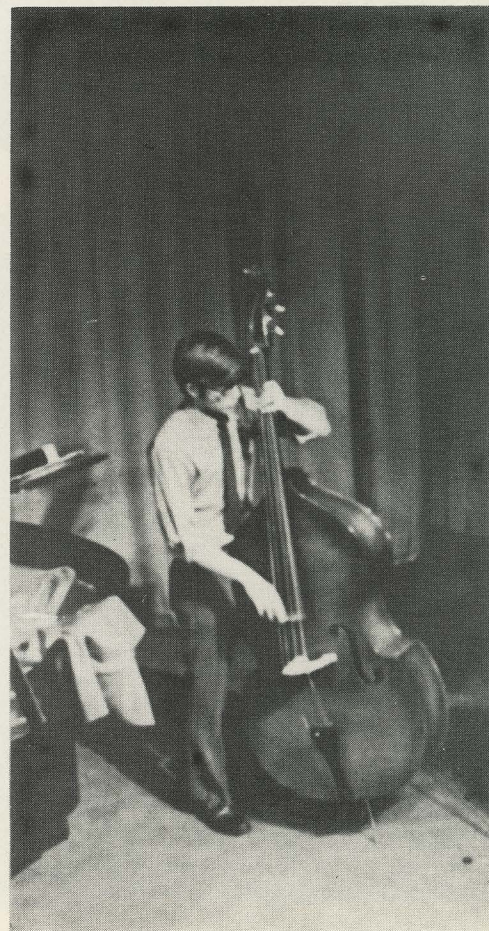

ORGANIZATIONS

sororities provide whole families of fun. a close band is formed between sorority sisters.

“best friends”

Dana Everson Trio

recipe for trio – take one talented pianist by name of dana, added to one drummer (brett lamott) and one bassist (paul wenglikowski), stir well and let set (practice) for a few weeks – presto!!! maybe we've hit upon the magic formula of this exciting contemporary-sounding jazz-pop trio . . . the craig hundley trio (in residence) of delta college??? . . . dana and the dotted quarters??? . . . anyway, if you missed one of their performances, you either don't appreciate good music, or don't know what's happening . . .

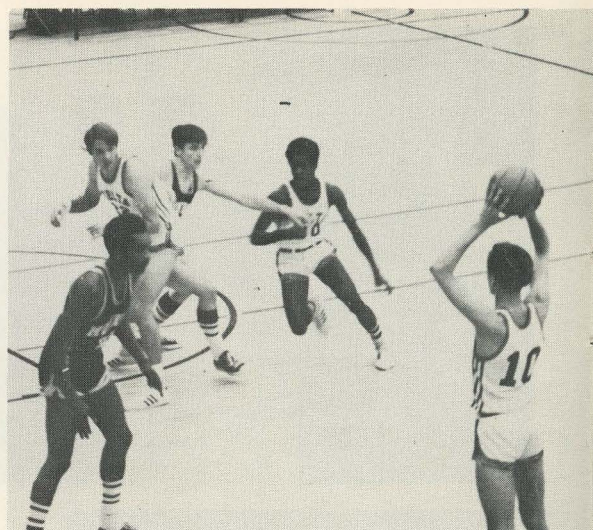

Jazz Rock

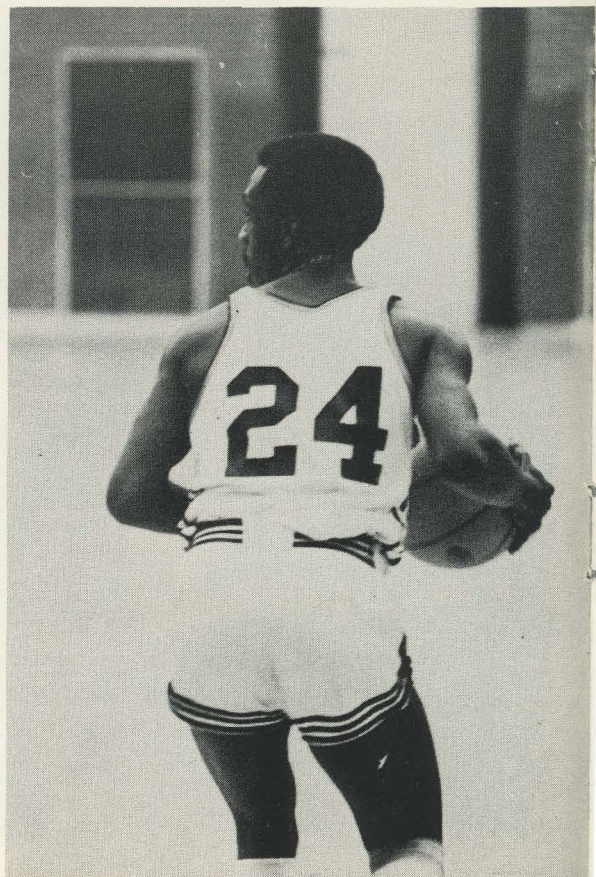

“an experiment in big band Jazz Rock music . . . ”
“come see 15 monkeys make people out of themselves!!” “ . . . is not a disease . . . !!! . . . ”

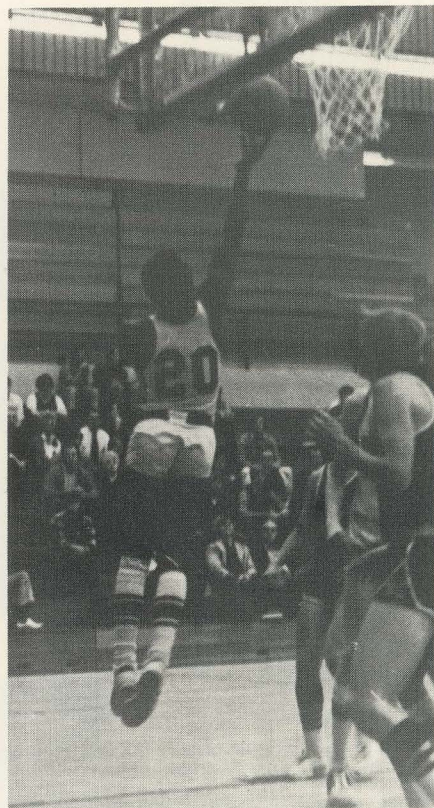

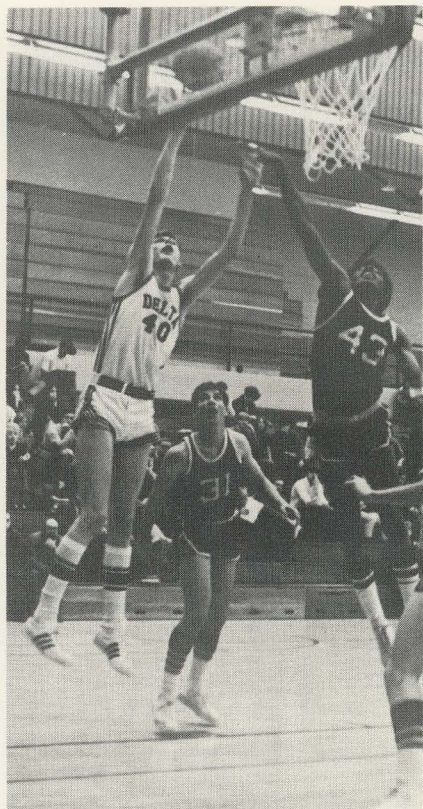

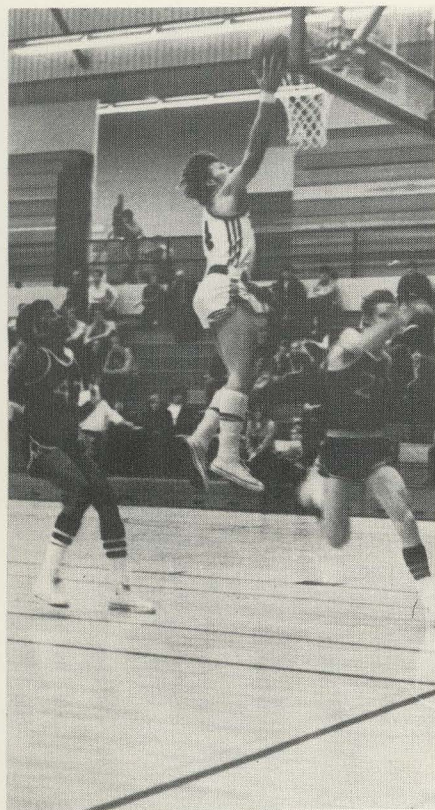

all arrangements played by this group of delta musicians, many of whom are music majors, are from the talented mind (and pen) of dana everson performed for hand-clapping, standing-room-only audiences under his careful direction and sick jokes!!!

Chicano Week

Nov. 16 - 21

The Chicano community of delta college and the tri-city area celebrated a week of chicano culture at delta during the fall semester . . . highlights of the week were guest speakers from east los angeles, texas and michigan . . . fashion shows, movies (among them i am joaquin, l. a. moritorium) dinners and dances . . .

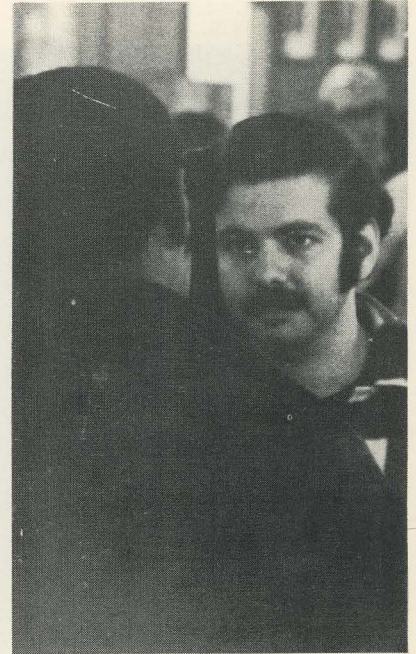

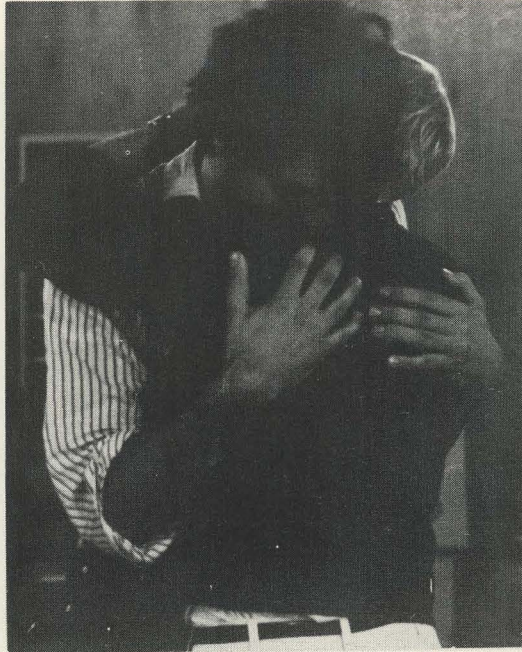

and to finish the week, on Saturday there was a recruitment day for high school area chicano youth to encourage them to further their education . . . colleges from all around the state sent representatives to talk with interested students . . .

for many of delta's faculty and students, this week was of great interest to them . . . instrumental in understanding their chicano brothers and sisters history and cultural background . . . along with this, an insight to where the chicanos are today . . . on the road to better life for all . . . upward and onward . . . viva chicano!!!!

Time For Interaction

no matter what happens today, remember, tomorrow is the first day of the rest of your life . . . smile, and enjoy the moment of now . . . all real living is meeting (martin buber)

Funkadelic Parliaments

freaky concert enjoyed by young and even younger hip, music-loving heads . . . a gal needs something cold to keep her going (below)

Big attraction of the 1970 spring council was Neil Diamond who sang some of his top hits. (Cherry, Cherry; Kentucky Woman; Brother Love's Travelin' Salvation Show). The fall of '70 saw B.J. Thomas of "Raindrops Keep Fallin' on My Head" fame bring his fine voice and quiet style to Delta's eager audience . . . mostly younger students. But the best was yet to come. . . .

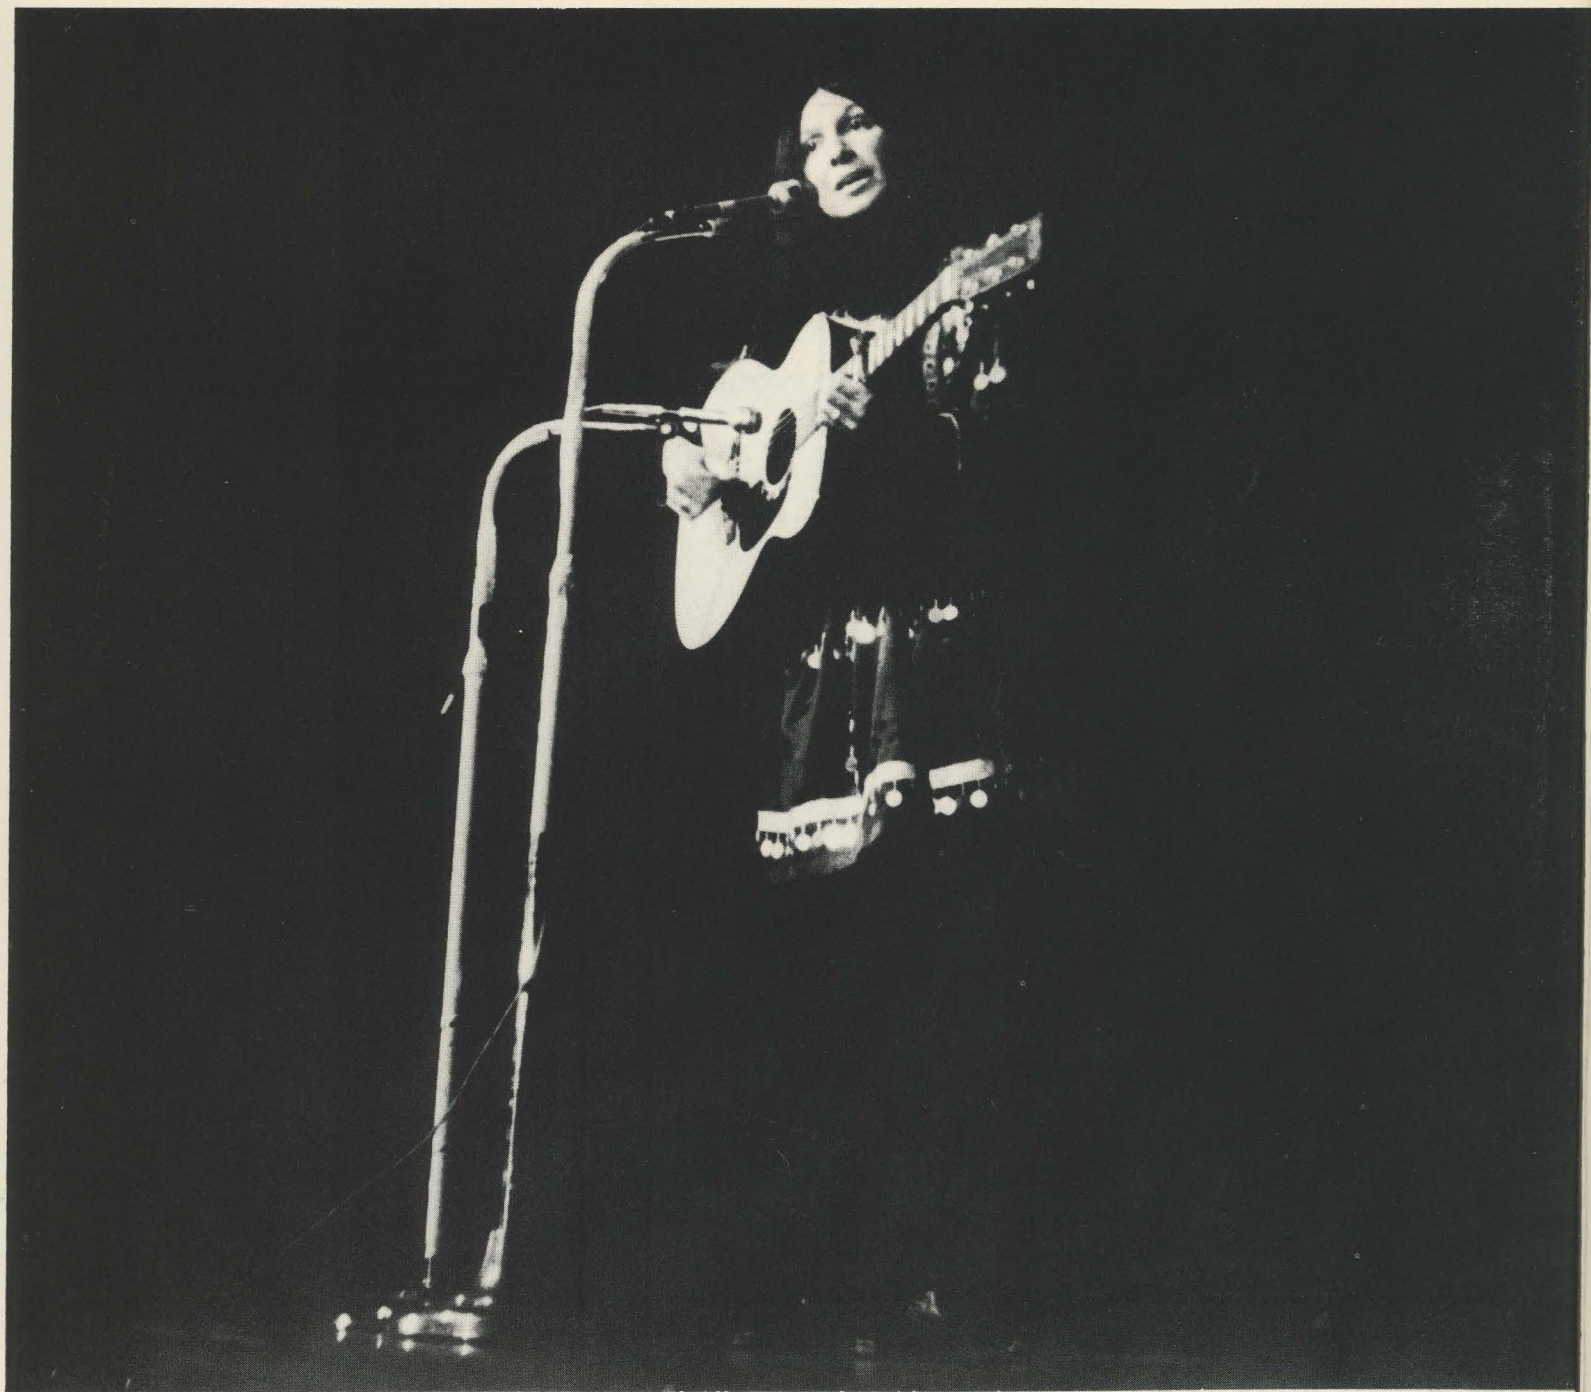

Buffy

. . . in casual rap sessions with student leaders . . .
talking, smiling, serious, determined . . . preparing equipment for the concert . . .

... in concert ... alive, vibrant, dynamic, real ... telling it like it is
'cos it's the only way ... getting to know us — our feelings, our hopes
... a beautiful woman, lovely voice, stirring message ...
